

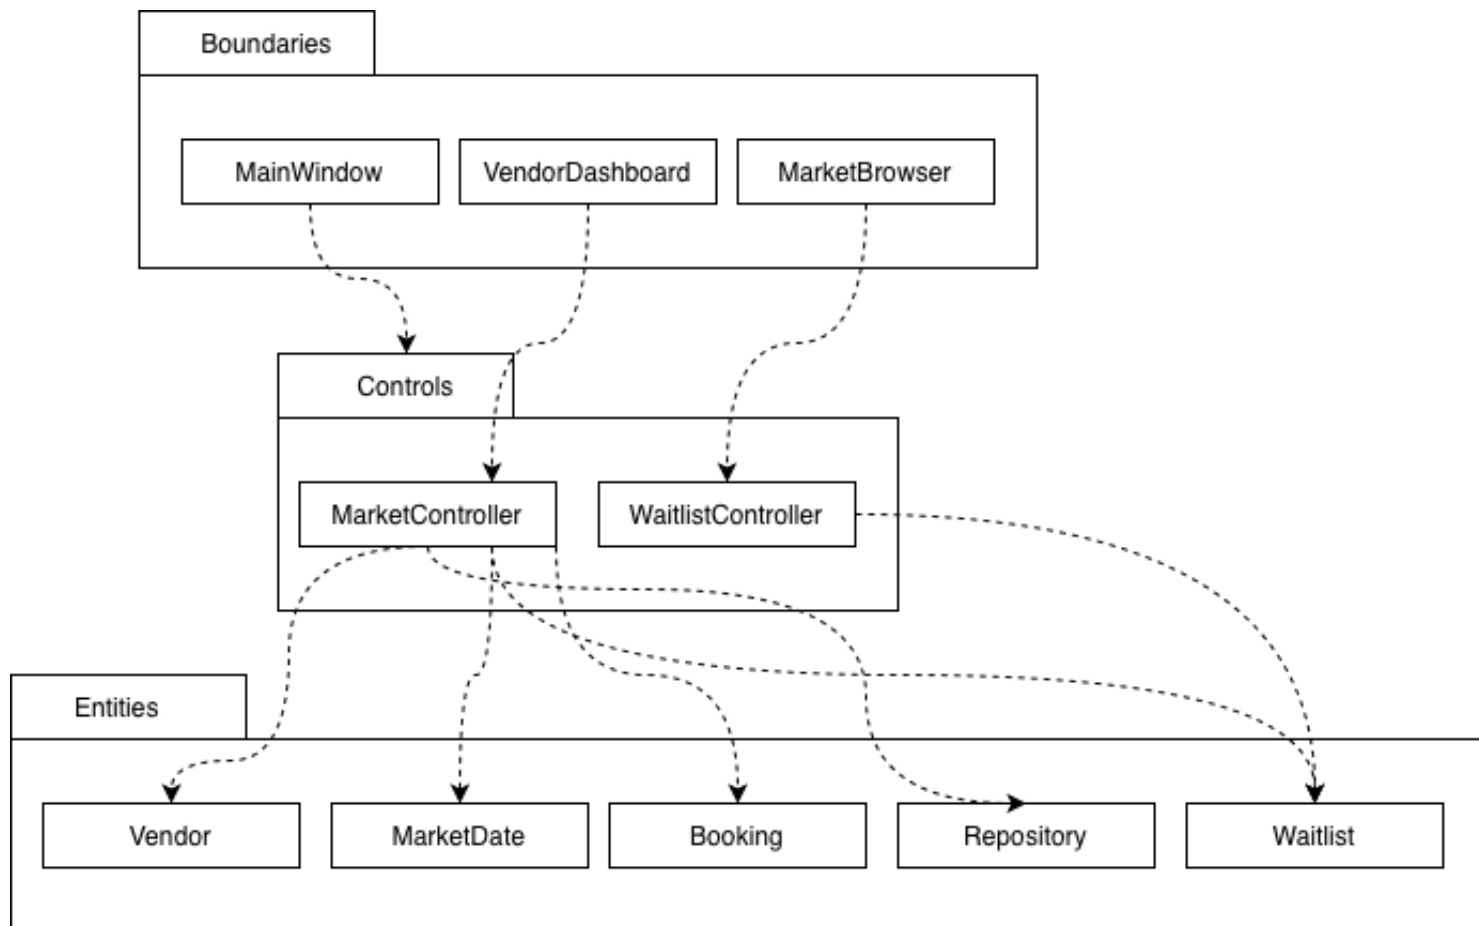

Figure 1: HintonMarket System Decomposition Showing Subsystem Organization and Dependencies

This subsystem decomposition minimizes coupling by having three distinct layers which only interact with the layer beneath them. Boundaries communicate exclusively with the control classes and never directly access the entities. This diagram maximizes cohesion by grouping related responsibilities of the classes.